STORRS, CT – UConn’s Jorgensen Center for the Performing Arts takes children on a magical journey to the bottom of Earth’s ancient seas when Erth’s Prehistoric Aquarium Adventure comes to the Jorgensen stage on Sunday afternoon, February 10. The delightful and educational presentation uses a special undersea set and a cast of realistic and anatomically correct prehistoric underwater creatures controlled by a team of master puppeteers to introduce young audiences to some of the fearsome and fascinating creatures that swam in Earth’s oceans long ago. Doors open at 1:30 pm. Show begins at 2:00 pm.

Children have a special opportunity to be photographed with some of the show’s ancient undersea creatures prior to the program at 12:30 pm. Parents can reserve a spot online or by calling 860-486-4226, Monday thru Friday, 10am - 5pm. The cost is $30 per person and participation is limited to 100. Show is recommended for ages 5 and up.

Media Sponsors are the Connecticut Public Broadcasting Network (CPTV and WNPR) and 96.5 WTIC-FM.
