STORRS, CT – Describing themselves as “barbershop meets Barbarella - and more fun than salmonella,” America’s favorite drag queen quartet, The Kinsey Sicks, brings their pitch perfect dragapella harmony and razor-sharp wit to the stage at UConn’s Jorgensen Center for the Performing Arts on Tuesday evening, October 30 for a presentation of their critically-acclaimed Off-Broadway smash Things You Shouldn’t Say.

Celebrating their 25th anniversary, the group is hailed by critics as “deliciously devious”, “hilarious”, and “poignant”, the show is an over-the-top-drag musical revue filled with outlandish camp (and boas!) and biting political satire; an outrageous romp celebrating the history of a group of friends who came together over their mutual love for Bette Midler and ended up creating a world-wide phenomenon known as The Kinsey Sicks.

Doors open at 7:00 pm and the performance begins at 7:30 pm. There will be a special post-performance Meet & Greet with the artists. Meet & Greet admission is $30 with attendance limited to 100.

The performance is co-sponsored by the UConn Rainbow Center, celebrating 20 years at UConn.

For additional information about the artists please visit: www.thekinseysicks.com.

Jorgensen presents 30 to 40 diverse performances each season, from nationally and internationally acclaimed artists and ensembles ranging from classical music to world music and dance, classical ballet and contemporary dance, comedy, family programming and contemporary entertainment.
